EMBA 99er SECTIONAL PAIRS WINNERS

STaCS, SECTIONALS MAKE IT A SILVER SUMMER

STaC week begins Thursday, July 1 and runs through Wednesday, July 7, with more than a dozen EMBA clubs participating. If you've never played in a STaC, here's what you should know: STaC stands for Sectional Tournaments at Clubs, and STaC games are an easy way to earn silver points toward becoming a Life Master. STaC WEEK is July 1-7. For a complete listing of STaC games in your area, see News to Note (left) or go to www.acblemba.org.

Summer Sectionals

July, August and September also offer at least a half dozen additional opportunities to earn silver points at regularly scheduled sectional and regional tournaments. On July 9-11, the Vermont Bridge Association hosts a sectional in Rutland, VT. EMBA's summer sectional is August 6-8 in Watertown, MA. The New Hampshire Bridge Association follows with a sectional August 14-15 in White River Junction, VT. District 25's fall regional is scheduled September 1-6 in Nashua, NH. On September 11-12, there's a Maine Bridge Association sectional in Portland and a sectional in Johnston, RI on September 25-26. For schedules and contact information, go to the tournament link at www.acbl.org, and follow the links.

Take home some cash

In September, the Westwood Bridge Club will initiate a series of six special monthly games played in conjunction with clubs in England and offering cash prizes to ten top pairs. For more information, see Club News, p. 4. ♣

Pat McDevitt of Brookline has long been one of EMBA's top players. He became a Grand Life Master in 2005, winning the prestigious six-session Life Masters Pairs at the Summer NABC with Steve Gladyszak. As this issue of Quick Trick goes to press, Pat will be competing in Brussels in the European Senior Team Championships, representing Ireland, the country in which he was born and raised. (<http://www.euro-bridge.org/competitions/10Ostend/asp/participantsDetailBeforeSchedule.asp?teamid=IRELAND@818>). In July, Pat will compete in the finals of the Grand National Teams at the Summer NABC in New Orleans. He is a member of the winning 2010 District 25 Championship Flight Team. Pat will be playing with Geoff Brod of Avon, CT, who together demonstrated their bridge prowess in the diagrammed deal, which they defended in the first-ever Platinum Pairs at the Spring NABC in Reno, NV in March 2010. It is probably the spiffiest defense I have ever seen!

Geoff led his third best spade, and declarer (an expert player in his own right) tried the Queen from dummy, which was covered by the King and won in hand with the Ace. Now declarer played the Ace of clubs and a club to dummy's Jack. When that won, he tried to cash the King in order to pitch his losing spade. However, Pat ruffed in with the 7 of hearts, which declarer over-ruffed with the 9. Then, declarer played a diamond to the 10, losing to Pat's Jack. Pat took a minute to think about declarer's distribution in light of the bidding, the opening lead and the play so far. He knew that declarer started with five hearts and two clubs and that he was interested in a quick pitch even before taking a trump finesse. So declarer's likely distribution was 2-5-4-2. That made partner's two higher spades the 6 and the 8.

The accurate analysis of the spade suit led to the first key play of the hand: Pat returned the 7 of spades! Geoff cooperated by overtaking the 7 with his 8 of spades and returned a club for Pat to ruff with his 8 of hearts, which declarer had to overruff with the ace. As a result, Pat's King was promoted to become a winner. But that wasn't the end. Rightly or wrongly, declarer, faced with no entries to his hand at this point, tried another diamond finesse to dummy's Queen before touching trumps. When the King of diamonds came up on his right, declarer drove out the trump King, but Pat was able to win this trick, give his partner a diamond ruff and set the hand for an excellent matchpoint score! A different sequence of plays would have netted declarer 12 tricks: In dummy with the club Jack, declarer could have finessed the heart King, drawn trumps in three rounds, finessed the diamond King, pitched a spade on his good club and lost a diamond at the end.

Today's Shark's Pointers 1) Pay close attention to the opening lead. The spots may provide valuable clues to declarer's distribution. 2) Think about ways to promote trump tricks. And 3), when your partner leads an unusually low or high card, stop and think why: As in the case of Pat's 7 of spades, there is often a special reason behind an unusual lead. ♣

Remembering Robert Starr

On Saturday, October 3, 2010, EMBA honors the memory of one of its finest players with the Robert Starr Memorial Pairs. Starr, who passed away in 2008 at the age of 89, was a native of Providence, Rhode Island. For years, he ran the Robert Starr Bridge Club in Providence, while nurturing his own duplicate bridge career as a player, teacher and tournament director. "He bought an old Packard garage and turned it into a really nice bridge club," commented Ed Rothman, who, along with wife Ilse, was a good friend of Starr's. Joe Giard was one of Starr's long-time bridge partners, as was Starr's son Sam (Sandy), who has graciously and generously volunteered his time over the past several years to host EMBA's fall Cape Cod tournament, now in memory of his father. Starr was Rhode Island's first life master, listed as life master # 330 in the records of the ACBL. His bridge accomplishments include a national championship—the 1947 President's Pairs—as well as many New England, Connecticut and Rhode Island Championships. Starr wrote a weekly bridge column for local newspapers and is listed in the ACBL's Encyclopedia of Bridge. He continued to play bridge despite a long battle with multiple sclerosis and related complications. His last major local victory was the Flight A Swiss Teams at the October 2008 Cape Cod Sectional. The team included his son Sam, Frank Mastrola and Barton Buffington. Starr passed away a month later.

NAP qualifiers race ahead in July, August

During the months of June, July and August, EMBA players have many opportunities to qualify for the finals of District 25's North American Pairs (NAP) competition by playing in special NAP qualifier games at local clubs.

This grass roots competition is one of only two annual ACBL events that offer cash prizes to winners at the District level. You only compete against your peers, so it's a chance to test your success against players of similar caliber. Here's how it works: Play in a special NAP qualifying game and score at least 50%. That makes you and your partner eligible to compete in the District 25 Finals in Cromwell, CT on November 6 and 7. The top three winning pairs in Flights A, B and C will win cash prizes to help offset travel expenses to the Spring NABC in Louisville, KY, where the NAP finals will be played in March 2011.

It's a good idea to play in as many NAP qualifiers as you can, because the qualifying games offer extra masterpoints. For more information about the NAP, contact Mark Aquino at maquino621@comcast.net.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

DERRICK NIEDERMAN

During the summer months, many of us will travel and play in bridge clubs at locales throughout the country. With any luck, our region will be visited by other bridge players doing the same, especially travelers to the Cape.

On those occasions when Peggy and I have played bridge during our travels—games in Rhode Island, South Carolina and Florida come quickly to mind—we have always enjoyed making new friends, and we've been struck by the extraordinary hospitality we've received. We even got a dog-sitting offer in Charleston in case we wanted to play in the Sunday Swiss at a nearby sectional.

So when visitors arrive at your table this summer, by all means extend some local courtesy. Introduce yourselves. Invest a little time in a new bridge relationship, however short-lived it may be. But of course extract every single matchpoint you can from your newfound friends. After all, you're part of EMBA, and we have a reputation to uphold!

Have a great summer! See you at the bridge table during STaC week, at the tournaments and the NAP qualifiers.
