World championships, world-class fun!

The World Bridge Federation will hold its quadrennial (every four years, non-leap years) World Bridge Series Championships in Philadelphia from October 1 - 16, 2010. All events are "transnational," i.e., players from all over the world will compete in team and pairs events without respect to nationality. A two-week ACBL regional tournament will be held concurrently with the world event.

If you are serious about improving your bridge game or if you are stimulated by the thought of playing against some of the best players in the world, this is an event worth considering. The entry fee is steep. The competition can be offputting. But there's nothing like the energy of a world championship. For a complete schedule of events and more information, go to <http://www.world-bridge.org/tourn/Philadelphia.10/Philadelphia.htm>.

EMBA AUGUST 2010 SECTIONAL WINNERS

Louis Russo, Auburndale, MA and Peter Zucker, Watertown, MA topped the field in the Friday night Pairs at the August EMBA Sectional. Lou and Peter won both Flights A and B. The Flight A Swiss Teams event was won by Ronald Newburg, Dean Panagopoulos, Lloyd Arvedon and Pat McDevitt (pictured above). Richard Freedman was also on the winning Flight A team.

2010 NORTH AMERICAN PAIRS COMPETITION MOVED TO CROMWELL, NOVEMBER 6-7

For more than a decade, the North American Pairs (NAP) District 25 Final has been an October bridge event in Sturbridge, MA. This year, the NAP will be played at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Cromwell, CT—a one-time move, says event chair Mark Aquino, to accommodate a schedule conflict with the World Bridge Federation Championships in October.

All players who qualified in a local club qualifying event in June, July and August are eligible to compete against pairs in their own strata in the NAP finals. (Not sure whether you qualified? Check your club's online scores. Names followed by "Q" are qualifiers. Or, ask your club director.)

First, second and third place winners in each flight will be awarded cash to attend the national NAP competition at the Spring 2011 NABC in Louisville, KY. A cash award for third-place finishers is new this year. Because District 25's Flight A pair won the 2010 national competition, they automatically qualify to defend their championship in the 2011 final. As a result, District 25 qualifies to send one additional pair in Flight A in 2011.

For Flight A and B players, the NAP District final is a two-day event, consisting of a two-session playthrough qualifier on Saturday, November 6, and a two-session playthrough final on Sunday, November 7. The Flight C NAP will be played on Saturday, November 6, a two-session playthrough. For more information about the NAP, contact Mark Aquino at maquino621@comcast.net or call Mark at 617-522-8626. ♣

CANDIDATES

Seven of EMBA's 21 director slots are due to be filled in the upcoming election. Ten EMBA members are running for these positions and their statements are provided below. Officers for the 2011 EMBA Board are listed on the ballot and will run unopposed: James Rasmussen-President, William Hunter-Vice President, Don Levy-Treasurer and Carolyn Weiser-Secretary.

Mark Aquino

EMBA is blessed to have a tremendous group of selfless volunteers who make this the best unit in District 25 and one of the finest in the entire ACBL. Thanks to strong leadership, EMBA is on a solid financial footing, due, in part, to the success of its tournaments. As a member of the Board, I'd like to help sustain the momentum that has developed over recent years. Although I'm frugal when it comes to spending EMBA money, I think it's time to invest in the future of EMBA and I'd like to be part of that process. I am active in District 25 affairs, serving as NAP/GNT Coordinator. In 2011, I will serve as First Alternate Director to the ACBL Board. I am also a past president of EMBA.

Murthy Ayyagari

I am a semi-retired electronics engineer with years of experience in technology startups. Now, I am an advisor to other entrepreneurs and to the College of Engineering at the University of Maine. I started playing bridge five years ago, and now I'm addicted-- or at least my wife thinks so. I have had the pleasure of meeting many people with varied backgrounds. Many of EMBA's highly skilled players have been helpful, patiently answering questions and even willing to play. If elected, I would like to develop mentor programs for beginning and intermediate players. I look forward to using my organizational and technical skills as a member of the Board and to contributing in the areas of finance and business development.

Cecilla Borrás

As many of you know, I am an avid bridge player and probably should be listed among those "addicts" of the game. Although I only played bridge for a few years in college, I came back to the game about three years ago and have thoroughly enjoyed the people I have met and the opportunity to learn from my fellow players. I truly appreciate the efforts that EMBA and its members have made to make the learning process available to me. I would like to contribute to those efforts in any capacity that I can. I believe that my experience as a small business owner and the organizational skills I developed as a manager of the Denver, CO office of a minerals exploration firm will help me make a contribution as a member of the EMBA Board.

Peter Lombardo

I have been playing bridge since I was introduced to the game over lunch one afternoon many years ago.

Among my bridge activities, I am a member of the board of the Winchester Duplicate Bridge Club, I have served on the EMBA Tournament Committee and hosted EMBA tournaments. I am also a town meeting member and a poll worker at local elections. I serve on the Parish Council and Finance Council of my local church where I am also a Eucharistic minister. If reelected to the EMBA board, I will continue to contribute my experience to further the game of bridge.

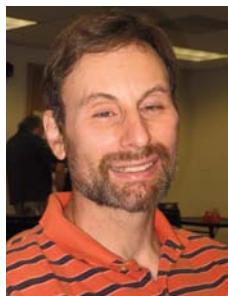

Brenda Montague

When I'm not cruising around the world—teaching, directing and recruiting new players—I'm teaching, directing or playing in Massachusetts, New England or at the Nationals. I have been a speaker at EMBA events and I currently serve on the EMBA board. I have chaired several regionals, sectionals and served on national committees, including the ACBL Goodwill Committee and the ACBL Board of Governors. As a bridge teacher, I have earned the title of "Master Teacher" from the American Bridge Teachers' Association, for which I am the regional director from New England. I enjoy being part of Audrey Grant's Better Bridge Team, and I especially enjoy mentoring newer players. It would give me great pleasure to continue to represent you on the EMBA board.

Neil Montague

I have been playing bridge for 30 years, and I want to contribute to the administration and enjoyment of this fine game. In addition, as technology expands what is possible, I would like to help improve processes there as well. As other candidates have mentioned, it is very important to promote our game to new players, and I will work in that area, also. Thank you for your vote.

Judi Rich

I have been on the Board for the past 10 months. I have enjoyed the work I have done on the Membership Committee, working with Kathy Benjamin and others. One of the most rewarding aspects of what we do is to contact people whose membership has lapsed and try to reintroduce them to the pleasures of Duplicate Bridge. If reelected to the Board, I hope to continue this work.

Millie Ring

Millie is a current board member running for reelection. She serves on several committees, including the Conduct and Ethics committee and the Bobbye Jardine Award Committee.

Jan Smola

My duplicate bridge experience started as a one-night-a-week pastime 20 years ago. Now, it is an important excuse to leave work on time for an evening game.

Although I still work full time in the chemical industry, I have time for bridge and many other interests, including theater, crafts and gardening. I have taught bridge in the Belmont Adult Education program and am active in the Winchester Duplicate Bridge Club, for which I have served as president and other roles. EMBA has made huge strides in encouraging new players and, if elected, I look forward to the opportunity to serve both new and current members of the bridge community.

Marlene Yesley

During my time on the EMBA Board, I have worked on the Tournament and Conduct and Ethics committees, been a proof-reader for Quick Trick, represented EMBA as a delegate to District 25 and co-hosted a sectional tournament in Watertown. Throughout my years on the board, I have served as educational liaison, organizing two teacher accreditation programs, maintaining a directory of teachers and pairing prospective bridge students with teachers in their areas. In 2008, my husband Mark and I co-chaired the intermediate/novice program for the Fall NABC in Boston. It has been a pleasure to represent you. I hope you will vote for me so that I can continue to do this work.

Don't forget to vote. The EMBA ballot is on pages 9 and 10.

You can also vote online at www.acblemba.org. For more information, see directions on page 11.

As EMBA congratulates Bill Hunter on crossing a significant milestone—the accumulation of 20,000 master-points—I am reminded that EMBA has been fortunate to have more than its fair share of outstanding nationally recognized players who have been active participants in our local clubs. One of the most colorful such players was my friend, partner and mentor: the late Charlie Coon. Like Bill, Charlie was a Grand Life Master. He was also a seven-time national champion. I played this hand with Charlie at the old Boston Chess Club on Beacon Street in Brookline about 35 years ago when I was, let's say, an advanced beginner. (The hand was written up in the New York Times.)

Charlie, sat East, and the bidding proceeded as given above. I led the K of diamonds, 5, 2, and 4. Now it was time for some thinking--something Charlie expected of his partners. South had a least six spades and four hearts. My partner's play of the 2 of diamonds suggested that declarer had two diamonds. That would leave him with no clubs at all. We had two tricks in diamonds if I cashed the second diamond, but where would the setting trick come from? If I led a club, it would place declarer is on the board for the spade hook, and Charlie probably held a high spade for his bid. If I led a low heart, that, too would put declarer on the board—with the 10—for the hook.

So, I shifted to the Jack of hearts—the only card that would defeat the contract because it severed declarer's communications to dummy. After declarer played the Ace of spades and a spade, Charlie reached my hand with a diamond and scored a heart ruff to beat the hand two tricks. On any other play, declarer would win in dummy, run the Q of spades, repeat the finesse if necessary and claim.

Even after all these years, I feel this is a pretty cool hand. Encountering the identical situation again may seem remote, but the underlying theme is what is important: finding the right defense to any hand is often a matter of simple arithmetic. This hand illustrates the importance of listening to the bidding, counting the cards in declarer's suits and watching partner's carding.

It's also important to count a hand from different perspectives in order to verify your picture of the distribution. Look at the hand from my perspective, sitting West. Charlie's preemptive jump shift in clubs showed at least six clubs.

And since I could see seven clubs between my own hand and dummy, it was clear that declarer had to be void. Charlie's 2 of diamonds showed three diamonds, so this meant that declarer had no clubs and two diamonds. Declarer had to have started with 11 cards in the majors—based upon the bidding, he was either 6-5 or 7-4. The fact that declarer did not rebid 5H, but instead bid 5S, points to his distribution being 7-4.

Now count my partner Charlie's hand. He is known to have started with six clubs and, after the first diamond, with three diamonds. Can he be two-two in the majors? Not likely, because that would mean that declarer had bid 4H on a three-card suit—highly improbable. If declarer is 6-5, then Charlie will have four spades and no hearts, so any heart that I lead at that point would set the contract. However, if declarer is indeed 7-4, and Charlie had started with three spades and one heart, I had to be careful. As I said earlier, Charlie is placed with a high spade honor for his double, so no rush to cash the second diamond: it was unlikely that declarer could get to the dummy with the spade Q to pitch his diamond loser.

In fact, even if Charlie held the singleton K or Q of hearts, the J of hearts was still the right play. His double virtually assured either the A or K third of trumps, and no matter what the singleton heart was, the Jack of hearts—and ONLY the J—would ensure that declarer had no quick dummy entry.

Today's Shark's Pointer: Winning defense is most often a matter of math, not magic. 1) Listen carefully to the bidding and 2) get in the habit of counting cards in declarer's and partner's hands based on what you have heard in the bidding and what you have seen from partner's carding. Some of the most brilliant plays in bridge are rather simple, if you have a count on the hand.

Letter from the president
Derrick Niederman

Election season has arrived, and I'm happy to announce that your favorite bridge association has entered the 21st century. In this year's elections for the EMBA Board of Directors, EMBA members will for the first time have the option to cast their ballots online. Note the word option. If you do not choose to vote on line, you can fill out and mail in the paper ballot that appears on pages 9 and 10 of this issue.

However, thanks to the hard work of EMBA Nominating Committee chair Carole Weinstein and resident technician Bob Bertoni, an online option is now available. (See page 11.) The beauty of the online system is that once enough members have gone through the easy registration process, the association will be positioned to query the membership on any and all issues of general interest as they come up, not just annual elections. For those of you who liked having questions about tournament starting times be addressed via a show of hands in a crowded room with erratic acoustics, I'm sorry, but that's so 20th century.

No matter which option you choose to exercise for voting, please take time to review the profiles of the candidates for the 2011 Board of Directors. We have a very strong crop of candidates, and the statements they submitted provide valuable information about their priorities, experience and enthusiasm.

Then, whoever you decide to vote for, vote! One more thing: Fill out a paper ballot or vote online, but don't do both! EMBA secretary Carolyn Weiser hates to throw out overvotes, so she thanks you in advance for following that simple rule. And so do I.
